PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

With nearly three decades in the culinary world, I have built my career across fine dining, large-scale F&B operations, and pastry research & development.

From my early years as Sous Chef at Raysone Restaurant to leading pastry production at M.H. Alshaya and pioneering recipe innovation at MMC Catering, my journey reflects a deep commitment to quality, creativity, and continuous evolution.

I bring together technical precision, team leadership, and a passion for developing menus that delight diverse palates across cultures and occasions.
